CHARLESTOWN, VA.

Tuesday Morning, August 9, 1870. DEMOCRATIC & CONSERVATIVE

State Ticket. FOR GOVERNOR, JOHN J. JACOB, of Hampshire County.

POR SUPREME JUDGE, C. P. T. MOORE, of Mason County. FOR AUDITOR, E. A. BENNETT, of Marion County. FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL, JOSEPH SPRIGG, of Hardy County.

POR TREASURES. JNO. S. BURDETT, of Kanawha County. FOR SECRETARY OF STATE, JOHN M. PHELPS, of Mason County.

REGISTRATION!

In consequence of unforescen circumstances, the registration office will not be open in this place to-day, as stated in our last, but we have been authorized to say that Mr. E. J. Williams, the Registrar for this township, will open the books for registration TO-MOR-ROW, at the room adjoining the hardware store of Maj. Jas. Law, Hooff. We fear that many of our citizens have not been fully aroused to the importance of this matter, but have gone on in the old dont-care style, which, if continued in, will permit another election to go by default, and our political fetters to be drawn another notch tighter. The Radical party of this county is the most corrupt and vicious political band of men ever associated together in a common cause of oppression and tyranny, and do not mean to allow one opportunity for the accomplishment of their petty party ends to go by unimproved, but will stoop to the lowest depths of political infamy to retain the power now in their possession. Beware then, Democrats and Conservatives of Jefferson! Remember that "etarnal vigilance is the price of liberty," and never cease your labors until every freeborn white citizen of this Commonwealth is at least placed on a level with the untuorted African, or the carpetbagger from abroad. Register, and Vote!

COST OF OUR ROAD.

From the last number of the Berkeley Union we make the following extract :-

Now, we hear the average cost per mile of that road will be $54,000, (this is hear say,) and we are also told that the Martinsburg and Winchester route will only cost $23,000 per mile, including depot buildinds, switches, &c. These figures certainly show where the money is to be saved. Still, we are not jealous of our Jefferson neighbors, only we don't want them to throw stones at our road.

This is a fine misrepresentation of facts .-We stated last week, in our correction of the remarks of Mr. Boteler, as published in the Register, (and we have an idea that the editors of the Union saw the article) that the statement that "the first mile from the river would cost $57,000, must be undoubtedly a typographical error of the Register, as we are assured by competent authority that $57,000 is about $40,000 in excess of the actual esti-

Boteler authorizes the correction of the state- | such obstacles intervene. ment himself, as will be seen by the following from that paper :-

Mr. Boteler desires us to correct the statement, in our report of his speech upon the oceasion of the serenade to him, last week, that the first mile of our Railroad from this place Southward, will cost $57,000; the actual estimate for it being only $17,000, and $197,-000 for the cost of construction across the county, irrespective of the rails.

How about your cheap road now?

NO REGISTRATION IN AVERILL.

The registration books, we understand, have not been opened in Averill township. A man by the name of Lewis was appointed registrar for that township but he is unknown in that section, (probably a carpet-bagger), and 'has not been heard of. This is another of the mean, low, contemptible and high-handed of such lack of Railroad improvements. tricks of the Radical party in this county, and if there is any law to cover the case, and we think there is, our friends in that locality should not permit such acts to go unpunished. But in the event that this scheme is carried out, and no-registration takes place in Averill, we would urge upon the Democrats and Conservatives of that township not to permit the election to go by default, but let every man who is entitled to vote appear before the County Board of Registration at its next meeting, and see that his name is put upon the

MORE RASCALITY.

Mr. J. V. Underdunk, one of the registrars at Shepherdstown, has, we understand, refused registration to two negroes who have announced their intention to vote the Conservative ticket, and with no other palpable reason than for the annunciation of Conservative principles. Thus we have in our own midst an example of what is occurring daily all over the country. As long as the negro is willing to remain the pliant tool of these dirty dogs, and stand as the step stone upon which they may aseend to office, all well and good; but the moment he asserts his right to vote whatever ticket he may choose, then he, as well as July 29, 1870, at Luray, Virginia: the white man, is prescribed and disfranchised. But there is a remedy, and we expect to see it applied.

Lately, a cargo of savage negroes, from Hayti, were landed at New Orleans .-Under the new naturalization law they can all become citizens and vote, while the most intelligent Chinese is debarred this privilege .-These imported citizens worship teads and other intelligent animals.

Accounts from North Carolina make certain the complete success of the Conservative Democratic party in that State. It will have perhaps two-thirds of the Legislature and five of the seven members of Congress. | grade road, composed of the following items : |

SHENANDOAH VALLEY R. R.

For the past few days the newspaper opponents of the Shenandoah Valley Railroad. disheartened and enraged at its unparalleled success, have been snarling and growling like a pack of hungry curs, and some have even gone so far as to pervert actual facts. As it is altogether useless for us to pen a reply to every little squib emanating from these restless croakers, we will simply lay before our readers a letter from Geo. H. Bardwell, Esq., Director and Agent of the Shenandoah Valley Railroad Company, and an extract from a letter of P. B. Borst, Esq., its President, which are sufficiently plain and practical as to satisfy the mind of any sane man in this country, and bid all croaking cease forever.

And now, northern-routers, go on and build your road, if you can, and we will not lay a straw in your path, nor ask you where you get your money, if you but build a road. We have no animosity whatever against your road, but on the contrary, bid you God-speed .-The more the merrier. The following is the letter of Geo. H. Bardwell, Esq. :-

PHILADELPHIA, August 2, 1870.

James A. Patterson, Esq., Waynesboro, Va: DEAR SIR .- In my three months itinerant sojourn in the Valley of Virginia, Superintending the Survey of the Shenandoah Valley Railroad, as an individual, and representative of the Company, I was met everywhere, without exception, with uniform kindness and attention. In appreciation of which, my Company has labored ceaselessly to merit such confidence, by placing our road immediately under contract and open up that long neglected though most beautiful and wealthy portion of Virginia. In four months and eight days from the commencement of Survey, our road, from the Potomac to the Roanoke, is in the hands of able and competent Contractors, at so much per yard, for each classification, of Earth, Rock and Masonry. Is it impossible then, (as our opponents ignorantly, or unfairly assert) to let work upon such terms? Verily, they are as far behind the age in this, as their good old State is behind other States in Railroad improvements for the development of her hidden and material wealth.

Our route follows the water courses with remarkably low grades and very cheap of construction. We have selected this rout with this view only, believing that the people of that great Valley would rise above local and selfish considerations and cheerfully aid us in our undertaking. We have no individual interests to subserve, and no Plantations, Farms, Towns, or Cities to run by the way of, for the gratification of the selfish and powerful few. With four years surveying, waiting, trusting and hoping, I wonder not that the people are disheartened and disbelievers. By our prompt and energetic efforts, you shall believe in and trust the Shenandoah Valley Railroad Company, and, perhaps, the more intelligent and thoughtful of your people, will give the S. V. R. R. Co., the credit of having, by their activity, placed coals of fire on the back of that slow land turtle, (the Baltimore & Ohio R. R.) that would for four (4) long years more, have "held the word of promise your ears, but to break it to your hopes." We are not standing in the way of the com letion of the Valley Railroad. They have had four years the start of us, and have only now began to scratch dust in the eyes of the people, by saving, we have no financial status; no ability to perform, and no intention to do further, than, by a mere show, to defeat their scheme. We can and will build our road, with branches into Harrisonburg, Staunton and Lexington, which will benefit those towns far more than if their elevated locations permitted a feasable and cheap line to be run into and through them. The good people of In the last number of the Register, Mr. | those towns cannot regret more than we that

> We are not standing in the way of the Valley Road and never have asked "where their money was to come from" to build with, and other (in my opinion) impertinent questions, calculated to shake the confidence of a generous people, in a supposed rival. The great Pennsylvania Central Railroad of Pa. have sufficient surplus funds on hand now to build this road clear through to the Gulf, and have no necessity to go to London for a £4,000,000 Sterling loan with which to carry on their own vast lines at home. There is enough for each and all, in external and hidden wealth in that great Valley. Chord, parallell, angle and right angle it through with roads; let Virrinia build and have built, within her borders, all the roads she can, for fifty years to come, and she will still be far behind many of the younger sisterhood of States, in facilities for the development of the vast wealth within her borders, which capitalists will now not seek the development of, for the very reason

Individual subscriptions are more easily obtained and void of all personal or local feeling, satisfactory and preferable; and had I the influence would say to all; Subscribe, give to each and all of the projected roads .-You will grow rich by giving, even to the half your possessions. Give City, Town and County aid, and where one has asked and received of your bounty; withold not from the

Give to Valley Railroad; then help the Shenandoah Valley Railroad to build their road, entending (by her connections) from the golden shores of the Pacific, bearing the wealth of another hemisphere, draining the rich Valley of the Mississippi, the Gulf and Atlantic States on the South and East; all to be brought by the great national highway, gathering up the wealth of the Valley of Virinia in her Train, and we will not compel you to stop at any particular City, but you may ride, and ship and transport with a choice of markets to the Nations, Centres of Manufactures, Commerce and Capital; without break of bulk or gauge, even to the northernmost cities of the Atlantic Seaboard.

Yours Respectfully, GEORGE H. BARDWELL,

Director and Agent S. V. R. R. Co.

Extracts from a letter of P. B. Borst, Esq., President of the Shenandoah Valley R. R. to J. D. Craig, Esq., Augusta county, and dated "The entire line of our road has been surveyed, and maps, profiles, and estimates of work have been made and completed. All of these were exhibited to contractors for inspection in Philadelphia, by Gen. Wright, Chief Engineer of the S. V. R. R., until July 21, 1870, at which time the entire road from Shenherdstown, on the Potomac river, to the Va. and Tennessee Railroad, at or near Salem. Roanoke Co., Va., was contracted for by the Central Improvement Company, of Pennsylvania, composed of the best, most wealthy and reliable railroad men in Pennsylvania-such as Thos. Scott, Vice-President and acting President of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company, the Collins Brothers, four in number, John Milnes, John R. McGovern and hosts of others.

It will be seen by examining the above figures that if we obtain the contemplated county subscriptions, the bonded debt of the Company will be $4,647,000 which bonds are to be taken by the Contractors for the construction of the S. V. R. R., as fast as the work is completed on each mile. If we fail to receive the anticipated county subscriptions, then, in that event, we will be compelled to increase the bonded debt of the Company to the extent of such failures. Our contract, I consider a good and an advantageous one for the S. V. R. R., and insures the construction of our road in two years.

- THE VALLEY RAILROAD.

A barbecue was held on Saturday, the 30th of July, at the Fair Ground near Staunton, in furtherance of the proposed subscription of $300,000 toward constructing the Valley railroad. Fully 4,000 persons were present, one third of them ladies. Speeches were made by Gov. Letcher, Col, Harman, Maj. Sutherlin, Judge Sheffey, And. Hunter, Esq., General Echols, Hon. John T. Harris, Maj. Dorman and others. Letters were read from General Jubal A. Early, Commodore Maury, John W. Garrett and Robert E. Lee, favoring the work. The following letter from General Lee, consenting to become president of the road, was received with great enthusiasm : WASHINGTON COLDEGE, LEXINGTON,)

July 28, 1870. To Colonel M. G. Harman, Judge H. W. Sheffey, Col. John B. Baldwin, Hon. A. H. H. Stuart, Thomas J. Michie, Esq., and others: GENTLEMEN :- Your favor of July 25th has been received. In response to your kindness in urging me to accept the presidency of the Valley railroad and to your request that if agreeable I should signify my willingness to do so, I have to say that, though I have no desire for the office, and would much prefer that it should be conferred on some other gentleman, yet so important do I regard this work to the interests to the Valley and of the whole State that when the company is fully organized if they desire my services as president, and think proper to make such arrangements as may render my acceptanc of the position not incompatible with my present duties, I shall be willing to accept the control of the road, and to use what energy and ability I may possess in furthering the speedy com pletion of the work. I have been for the last day or two under medical treatment, which will render it out of my power to be with you in Staunton on Saturday. I regret being thus prevented from testifying by my presence my interests in the success of the Valley railroad. I am, very respectfully, your obedient servant, R. E. LEE,

There are distinct signs that the Radical faction is apprehensive of extensive defeats in the Congressional elections this fall. In the first place an unprecedented demand money has been made upon the employees in the Departments. One of the Secretaries (Mr. Mox, of the Interior,) has had the manliness to denounce publicly this piece of high way robbery in fitting terms. It is understood that the money thus levied by order of the Republican Central Committee is to go directly to Radical candidates in doubtful districtsthat is to say, the greenbacks wrung from the half-starving clerks are to be appropriated to pay the candidates' personal expenses in the

THE WAR IN EUROPE.

From the condensed news column of the Baltimore Gazette, we make up the following

TUESDAY'S NEWS.

WEDNESDAY'S NEWS. Orders have been issued for the active recruiting of the English marine service. It is said that but for the arrival of the French fleet in the Baltie the Prussians would have advanced directly upon Paris.

Continual skirmishing in a small way was going on along the Rhine, the object being mainly, it is supposed, to accustom the troops to the sight and fire of the enemy.

accord on the subject of the great war. It is reported that since he has been with the army the Emperor keeps one telegraph wire busy with correspondence with the

A despatch from Paris gives the official announcement of a serious engagement with the Prussians. The attack was made by the French army, who invaded the territory of Prussia, and, according to the account, were completely successful. The Emperor was present, accompanied by the Prince Imperial, who received on this, the first battle-field, "his baptism of fire." The scene at the departure of King William from Berlin is described as having been most extraordinary. The people seemed to be frenzied with enthusiasm. The entire Court, ladies and all, mingled with the crowd, participated in its emotion and bade the King 'good bye" with every demonstration of loyalty and devotion. In the House of Commons Mr. Gladstone. in reply to a question, said that he was unable to submit the correspondence of the late Lord Clarendon, urging disarmament; it was inexpedient even to repeat its purport. It was remarked that further remonstrance on the part of England now can only exasperate both Powers, and the only course is to seek a safe opportunity for renewed efforts in favor of peace. The treaties and guarantees for the neutrality of Belgium and Luxembourg were presented. The Greek question was referred to, and a question answered as to the description of arms used by the British regulars .-A discussion then arose on the proposition to increase the regular army by 20,000 men and its importance, in view of the weekness of the country, urgently pressed.

It is said that England will make no engagements with other Powers regarding the preservation of her neutrality.

The French troops from Rome are arriving at Marseilles. It is said that the Italian army will enter Rome as soon as the French withdraw, on the plea of protection. Its strength is to be increased to 120,000 men.

THURSDAY'S NEWS. A despatch from London of yesterday confirms the account of the capture of Saarbucken by the French. There is some contradiction in the several accounts received as to the affair, but there seems to be no doubt about the main fact viz: the capture of the place.

Fuller French accounts have been received of the attack upon Saarbucken, with a telegram from the Emperor. They are as different as possible, it will be seen, from the Prussian statements. It-was evidently a small affair at most, yet Metz was illuminated and the Empress made thanksgiving in the chapel of Notre Dame de Victoric.

The French exploit at Saarbrucken is regarded in Amsterdam as a coup de theatre and not military success.

The Prussian account of the affair at Saarbucken is that a small detachment of their troops stationed at the point was attacked by three divisions of French, and that the Prussians fell back on their supports after a sharp action, with trifling loss.

There is much feeling manifested in England on account of what is called Mr. Gladstone's economical, sentimental shrinking from war policy, and a strong pressure is being made upon him to adopt more prompt and decided measures. It is now said the Prussian army is ready to take the offensive and to carry the war into France. The King made an cloquent and stirring proclamation to the army on assuming

At a very early hour this morning a despatch from London reports that fighting had been kept up all along the frontier since Monday last. The French are said to have been driven out of Weissenburg on Saturday. The successful attack upon Saarbrucken was made by the French with the Second Corps, which afterwards fell back. The loss was light on both sides. Another forward movement will be attempted immediately.

Further and very late despatches make still larger claims for the victory at Saarbrucken. Three thousand Prussian prisoners are said to have been taken.

FRIDAY'S NEWS.

A later Prussian account of the fight at Saarbrucken puts down their loss at two officers and seventy-nine men. The French loss appeared to be more serious.

It is rumored that the grand forward movement is fixed for Saturday next. A Prussian force has advanced across the frontier, drixing the French posts before them and destroying miles of the railroad between Luxemburg and Strasburg. The French loss was heavy, including many prisoners.

The Belgian Government, it is said, accept the first satisfactory offer for the performance of mail service between Antwerp and New York in place of that lately performed by the North German Lloyds.

The Government of Portugal has issued a decree declaring the neutrality of that King-

The sympathy with France continues very great in Denmark, and it is a hard struggle with the Government to preserve its neutrality. It was stated in the House of Lords last night that the full details of what had taken place concerning the recent negotiations were pearly ready to be submitted to the House, when the Government would be prepared for debate. The Clerical Disabilities bill was passed, and one for the organization of the militia forces of the country was presented and read the first time.

In the House of Commons notice was given of a question in regard to Belgium.

SATURDAY'S NEWS. An unofficial report from Paris is to the effect that Saar Louis has been taken by the French after a great battle. The French account of the battle of Weissen burg has been received. It goes into little detail, but does not differ materially from the reports heretofore received. General Dousy was killed. General McMahon is concentrating his forces at Pigeonnier.

Five hundred of the French prisoners taken at Weissenburg have arrived at Frankfort .-Eight hundred was the total number captured, among them eighteen officers. The report that Saarlouis has been taken turns out to be false. There has been no fighting there. The Prussian account of the battle

Weissenburg describes it as a brilliant, but bloody victory, in which a division of French troops was splendidly defeated. The losses are spoken of as being heavy, but no details-

Further particulars are given of the fight at Saarbruck. The reported French force is stated at 30,00; that of the Prussians 6,000. A German three-masted schooner has been captured by a French cruiser, and taken into Brest. From London it is reported that the invasion or Belgium will be regarded by England as a casus belii.

All efforts on the part of the Court of Rome have failed to prevent the withdawal of the French troops, and the last detachment was to leave Civita Vecchia yesterday.

The new French Ambassador to Turkey is said to have been warmly received by the Sultan, who expressed strong sympathy for MONDAY'S NEWS.

Great demonstrations of enthusiasm had taken place in Paris in consequence of favorable reports from the frontier, and further accounts were looked for with fervid anxiety .-There were reports that the French soldiers had "fought like lions;" that 7,000 Prussians were killed, wounded and missing, and that one of their regiments was "cut to pieces,"

The General Douay killed at Weissenburg was not the General of Division, but a General of the same name commanding infantry. Numbers of French prisoners of war continue to arrive at Berlin and elsewhere. The Prussians say that they will prove by their treatment of them that, though they are captives, they are no longer enemies, Russia, it is said, strongly urges the maintenance of the neutrality of Belgium. Antwerp is being put into a complete state of defence with all the despatch possible. Prince Royal Frederick William has isued brief but stirring address to the soldiers of Prussia, Wurtemburg and Baden, united under his command. The most intense enthusiasm continues to prevail throughout Germany. On his journey to the army the King was everywhere received with tears and shouts. In the cities of the Confederation crowds assembled in the streets to hear the war news and to make demonstrations of loyalty. An address has been sent to Mr. Gladstone urging the English Government to preserve in its policy of neutrality.

The accounts received of the French successes at Weissenburg created the greatest enthusiasm among the people at Paris. Enormous crowds filled the streets and singing patriotic songs. The cafes were filled to overflowing The Prussian army began its advance from Saarlouis and treves on Friday, the 5th, and on the next day, after taking Sierck, attacked the French at Thionville. The Crown Prince at the same time moved in the direction of Bitsche and participated in the advance movement of the whole German line on Saturday.

which seems to have resulted in the defeat of the French at all points. On Saturday night the Crown Prince telegraphed to Berlin from the field of battle, Mahon, who had retired upon Bitsche. The Prussian account states that General McMahon's loss, besides killed and wounded, was 4,000 prisoners, 30 cannon, 6 mitralleuses and two eagles. His loss of officers was great. Both sides suffered heavily.

An editorial in the Gazette, in regard to the battle of Hagenau, concludes as follows: The war has evidently commenced in good earnest. It will probably be a most bloody one, and possibly a comparatively long one. We say comparatively, because with the present perfection of deadly weapons, and the improvement in facilities of communication. it is impossible that a war between European nations could last as long even as the wars of the early part of the century. Until other very important engagements have been fought we shall of course have, for some days after each skirmish or battle, contradictory accounts from the opposing armies. We must take for the present everything we receive with considerable allowance, and wait patiently for trustworthy details, which are sure to come, as soon as they reach London, with telegraphic rapidity.

That the Prussians have gained important victories, there is no doubt. It remains to be seen what advantages they will take of them, now that they occupy French territory.

The gravity of the situation is still further deepened by the manifesto put forth by the Empress and countersigned by the principal officers of State. The French Chambers are to be convoked; the defences of Paris strengthened with all possible haste, and the city itself is declared to be in a state of siege.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Sinking Slewly.

Diseases that progress rapidly to a crisis are not the only ones to be dreaded. Canker or dry rot does not blast a tree as suddenly as a stroke of lightning, but unless arrested, it destroys it as certainly; and in like manner chronic debility, although it does not kill with the swiftness of yellow fever, is as sure to eap the springs of life eventually as any acute disease, if not checked by invigorating medication. There is something inexpressibly touching in the spectacle of premature decay. Languor, pallor, emaciation, depression of spirits, and a distaste for exertion, are its ordinary symptoms, and they should be promptly met by tonic treatment. The best invigorant and exhibitant that can be administered in a case of this kind is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The stimulating principle of the prepministered in a case of this kind is nosterier a stan-ach Bitters. The stimulating principle of the prep-aration rouses the dormant energies of the system, and the strengthening and regulating properties give a permanent and healthful impulse to the vital forces thus brought into play. The falling appettle is re-awakened, the process of digestion and assim-ilation are quickened, the quality of the blood is im-record the secretions become more natural, and is re-awakened, the process of digestion and assimilation are quickened, the quality of the blood is improved, the secretions become more natural, and every organ that contributes to the nourishment of the body undergoes salutary change. By these means the repair of the physical structure is effected and its health and vigor restored. In no class of diseases has the benificent operation of the Bitters been more marked and striking than in those characterized by general debility and nervous prostration. Ladies affected with these silments find in this most wholesome of all tonics and correctives the safest and surest means of relief. It is strong to restore and powerless to injure. A WONDERFUL MICROSCOPE.

A WONDERFUL MICROSCOPE.

Rev. Daniel Wise, D. D., editor of the New York Sunday School Advocate, thus speaks of the celebrated Craig Microscope:

"Its simplicity, cheapness and great magnifying power struck me with surprise. Then I was examining a fly's eye by its aid, and was struck with wonder at the skill and power of the Creator which is displayed in its structure. When I saw a statement in an advertisement that the Craig Microscope magnified one hundred diameters, and could be bought for $250, I thought it was one of the humbugs of the hour, for I had paid $20 for a microscope not long before. But now I find it to be a really valuable instrument, which I should like to see introduced into the families of our readers in place of the manifold useless toys which please for an hour and is then destroyed. This microscope place of the manifold useless toys which please for an hour and is then destroyed. This microscope would both amuse and instruct them, and I advise every boy and girl who wisbes to know the won-ders which lie in little things, to save his money untit he has $2.75, which will pay for the micro-scope and the postage when sent by mail." The Trichina Spiralis or Pork Worm. Perhaps it is not generally known that the much talked of trichina spiralis, or pork worm, was first discovered in America by Dr. R. C. Kendall, of Philadelphia, Pa., with that American instrument known as the Craig Microacope, costing only $2.-75, after repeated failures to discover the worm with an imported microscope, costing $55, "of feebler power and less reliable." This fact Dr. Kendall stands ready to prove at any time. The "Craig" Microscope in neat box with full direction is mailed anywhere for $2.75, by E.-H. Ross, 313 Locust St., St. Louis, Mo. t.
